Cloths and Velvet Cloaks,

Brazen mendacity does not appear to be confined to quackery, politics or even to some of our cotemparies, but seems to abound to the fullest extent among railroad managers and officers.

This sage reflection crossed our mind upon perusing an advertisement or bill issued by the Bellefontaine Railroad Company, of which company our respected friend, John Brough, is President. The poster states that road to be the quickest line to Baltimore and Washington City.

The distance of the Bellefontaine Railroad, is 762 miles giving the Indiana Central Railroad forty two miles the advantage to Washington City, and thirty-three miles to Baltimere. It is not probable, therefore, with such disadvantage in distance, that the Belletontaine Railroad should make the quickest

Again the instruction in the aforementioned Again the instruction in the alovementioned poster's to purchase tickets via said route to Washington City. Now the traveling public know, that as Washington City is one of the termini of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, no committed the said route of the said rou peting line is permited to sell tickets or check baggage to said city. We would quote the trite adage "that honesty is the best policy," and though business may be obtained and success for awhile attend unprincipled efforts, the result is invariably unsatisfactory Such false statements are calculated to bring railroad veracity into discredit, and should be discouraged.

The Lost Women of New York-Solemn facts for the People. A New York correspondent of the Christian

Intelligencer thus notices the book by Dr. SANGER entitled "The History of Prostitution:" There are a half dozen solemn facts in that extraordinary work, that all Christians, both of town and country, ought to look in the face. As the "louses of pleasure" in New York— for this is the modern name for what Solomon called the "doors of hell"—are largely recruited from country towns and farm houses, it ought to be known by every wretched girl who meditates a life in the brothel, that the average duration of the abandoned woman's life in New York is just four years! It requires only that brief space of wild revelry, champagning, and carousing—of drink, degradation and disease—to reduce a beautiful girl of eighteen into a loathsome corpse, flung out to the corruption of a "Potter's Field." It ought to be known, too, that the most of these wretched women are badly educated—there are a few exceptions; but Dr. Sanger tells us that 'education is at a low standard among them.' Ill treatment, by parents and husbands, send one-tenth of this army of vice into their stantly dark as night under the operation of wretched calling. But the saddest fact of all, and the one most disgraceful to our Christian civilization, is that full one-fourth of the lost women of London and New York were driven to the streets and brothels by destitution! The

How many a virtuous reader of these lines, now safe in virtue, because safe in competence, might, if sharp necessity had forced her to such a decision, be now in the chambers of the courtezan! Nor will it answer for us to labor for the lost woman's recovery by Magdalen Asylums, &c., until we have labored harder to save the daughters of poverty from being lost through actual lack of daily bread. Employment at a fair remuneration will do more to rescue in season those for whom the vortex of the brothel yawning, than all the Magdalen Societies in exis-For while those Societies afford occasional recovery to the few, the other method will ensure prevention and safety to the many.

You ask, perhaps, how many there are of these lost women? I learn from Dr. Sanger's accurate volume, that there are 7,850 in New York. Just think of two townships as large as Rolokoke. populated by these miserable Pariahs of society. If they were placed in a line side by side, they would extend two miles and four hundred yards! They would form a solid procession from the City Hall to Fortieth street. They would fill five hundred of our ordinary omnibuses; and of all this fearful array it would be seen that nearly one half are under twenty years of age! How many of all these will ever be saved from the pit? This is a question that curdles our very blood; for the gate which these unhappy creatures pass through is a gate that seldom opens but one way. They that go in thereat, go out again no more forever. Thus far not one courtezan in twenty has been reformed.

n Affair at the State University. From a private and reliable source, we learn that on last Saturday, the 25th inst., Dr. Wm. M. Daily, President of Indiana University at Bloomington, had a personal rencontre with his old en-eny, Dr. A. Murphy, in which the former gen-tleman gave the latter a sound and well deserved thrashing. It appears that as Dr. Daily was coming out of the postoffice, just after the opening of the morning mail, he met Murphy, who applied some insulting epithet to him and immediately struck him with his cane. Daily warded off the blow and retreated backward toward the building. Murphy continuing to repeat the blow with his cane in rapid succession, when Daily, finding himself cornered and compelled to fight in self defense, turned on his assailant, with his large gold headed cane, and knocked him down and never left off beating him until he had broken his cane to splinters, and bruised Murphy most gloriously, who got uppand sneaked off, while three cheers were given by the crowd for Daily. Murphy was prosecuted for the assault, and fined $30 and costs, and bound ever to keep the peace. The cane Dr. Daily used was the one presented to him by the students last commencement, and fifty dollars were subscribed immediately by the students and citizens, to get him a new one. himself and Daily.—Evaneville Enq. to be hoped that Murphy will give this fittle affair

A Noble Sentiment. The Governor of Georgia embodies the follow

ing in his Annual Message:
No monarch rules here! And it is pride of our system, of our Government, that each citizen at the ballot-box possesses equal rights of sover-eignty with every other one. Thanks be to our Heavenly Father, the popular voice can not here be hushed in the silence of despotism, but the popular will dictates the law. May it thus ever remain! How important it is, therefore, that the masses of the people be educated, so each may be able to read, and understand for himself the Constitution and history of his country, and to judge

Queru's Cod Liver Oil Jelly, and decide for himself what are the true principles and policy of his Government. But how much more important it is, in my opinion, that every person in the State be enabled to read for himself in the Holy Bible, and to comprehend the great principles of Christianity, in the eternal truths of which, I am a firm, though humble be-liever. Educate the masses, and inculcate virtue and morality, and you lay broad and deep, in the hearts of our people, the true basis of our future

Senator Douglas and the Presidency. The Chicago Times says, "that Mr. Douglas will not ask a nomination at the hands of the Charleston Convention. If, in that body his friends should present his name, and he be nominated he will not feel at liberty to decline it; if his friends should not present his name, then the nominee of the convention will receive then the nominee of the convention will receive his support. The use of his name by any men or body of men—as a candidate for the Presi-dency or any other office, independent of and hostile to the nominations of the Democratic party—is altogether unauthorized by Mr. Doug-las, will never receive his sanction, and is wholly repugnant to his wishes and desires. We say this much with a full knowledge of its truth, and knowing that we express in this particular his own sentiments."

New ALSANY IN 1858 .- Our sister city at the foot of the Falls has been unusually prosperous during the past year. The mercantile business has exceeded that of any previous year by twenty-five per cent. Over one hundred buildings have five per cent. Over one hundred buildings have been erected; also a new jail at a cost of $18,000, and a Catholic Church costing $15,000. The expenses or the Fire Department were $2,485 94—an excess of the preceding year. For street improvements there were expended $1,983 20, and for gas $1,100. The number of marriage licenses was 240. During the year there were nine fires, destroying property to the amount of $73,400—a larger loss than was sustained in Louisville. The mortality amounts to 162 deaths, exhibiting

The Importance of Regularity, It is highly important that mankind should observe strict regularity in all the affairs of life. Regularity induces ealth-irregularity produces disease. Most people are particular about eating at regular hours—retiring to rest at regular hours-rising at a regular time-and we should be equally as particular about discharging, from the bowels, the fecal and acrimonious humors of the body at a regular hour-to empty the bowels of their contents at a regular time. If mankind would observe this great and importan duty, and prepare their bowels to more regularity, they would avoid much sickness. Radway's Regulating Pills induce Regularity. They regulate every organ to regular action. The Liver, Pancreas, Kidneys, Heart, Skin, Bowels, and all other organs, will, after the action of Radway's Regulators, move with all the regularity of clock-work.
